

From: Dana Stovern dana@somaticmoney.com
Subject: How did Angela receive a promotion and a raise using Somatic Money in this economy?
Date: August 26, 2026 at 6:47 AM
To: Dana dana@somaticmoney.com

DS

The Elite Magic of Somatic Money
Coaching Package with 10 components
On Special for \$2,499

OR request your custom Somatic Money package bid here for your right fit and budget.

How did Angela receive a promotion & a raise using Somatic Money in this economy?

Earlier this year my Spirit Team guided me through a series of Somatic Money service package releases and one woman participated in every single one. Here's the story about how Angela's Somatic Money journey resulted in a substantial promotion, raise and benefits this August 2026 in the middle of our terrible economy. (Here is access to the full package Angela worked with OR request your custom pendulum bid with Team messages for the package of services tailored to your needs).

Here's the story . . .

This past spring, my Spirit Team began guiding me through a series of Somatic Money and color service package releases to share with my audience and clients. You may have seen some of them here.

Through the progression I felt like my Spirit Team showed me a step-by-step tour of my work through a new lens. While each Somatic Money themed reading resulted in short term money magic and life coaching shifts for my clients, there was one woman, Angela, who latched onto the releases and diligently invested and worked whole-heartedly with every channel/read I provided for her. I noticed that this work deeply meant something to her and I leaned in.

Here's what we did together.

The Foundational Read: When Angela, who works in health and human services, first reached out to me in late winter/early spring, she vulnerably shared that she was trying so hard at work, in debt and not feeling like she had financial traction. She wanted significant change to the top side. I took this to heart and suggested we begin with a singular 4-6 page PDF channel read where we inventoried her foundational spiritual and body-based skills and tools. I delivered a channel/read that was a living body-based money relationship workshop.

This foundational read turned up that she needed to do a tremendous amount of clearing work and unhooking astral cords from past relationships so she could stand more cleanly and clearly on her own with her finances. She took this to heart, loved it and ran with it. She felt like she received traction and movement. Things began to feel better . . .

. . . but she knew it wasn't everything.

Then, in early spring I promoted combos of the Chakra Money Reading and the Color Money Channel Reading and the Symbol Pendulum Check with Messaging. Angela valiantly did all three. ALL freaking THREE! My flabbers were gasted. I was super psyched for her and the work. As we landed all three, her attention turned from the heaviness of clearing low vibrational energy and lifted her into specific color vibrations with specific chakras for her money relationship -- plus the higher vibration with her encoded symbol. This was a prime shift for her. She loved it and felt the lift . . .

. . . but she knew it wasn't everything. And I began to hear her say, "Hey, Dana, I'm doing all this work and I feel better. Life is better, but I'm not receiving the financial traction I had hoped." I hear this alot from clients in the middle of the work. They believe they're doing great things, and they are, and they want results to happen right there. Sometimes they do. But Spirit World tends to deliver more on what we need in our journey, not necessarily what we want. This can sting.

Right about when Amanda was feeling and voicing about this I was doing more.

Late spring and early summer, I released the shadowland woofers: Pendulum Checks with the 12 Karmic Money Soul Contracts as well as the Elite Global Family Pendulum Checks. Overall, people were super excited about these. Lots of readings. Lots of shifting. And again, Angela was right in the middle of the fray. She did not back down at all. I was super impressed with her tenacity.

And personally, I was walking individuals by the hand through the heaviness of shadowland work and astral de-cording. It was a lot. There were days I was sage-smoking out my place repeatedly and I was telling one Global Elite Family after another to energetically "eff-off" out of my space. I'm super proud that collectively we identified and removed all kinds of low vibrational energies out of people's financial lives.

And again, Angela leaned in. She did the hard work. Got the traction. And she let me know, "Dana, I'm doing everything you're throwing out. Life is better. I'm having a few magical financial synchronicities which is great. But what am I missing?"

That's when she booked a Remote Video Read to find out directly from her Spirit Team what was going on. And you know what her Team said? The celebrated! "Angela, you've done anything and everything to improve your personal finances through your money energy space. We see you. We hear you. We honor you. We celebrate you. But it's time for you to take a load off and rest. Just know that things are moving and working. It's time to celebrate your accomplishments because you have energetically done everything you needed to! Way to go!"

And her Spirit Team released her to enjoy the rest of a fabulous summer. And that's when Angela dedicated herself to letting go, counting her blessings, being in abundance and giving herself over to "It's all working out in my favor" kind of attitude.

I was super impressed.

Then the heat of summer eventually pressed into early Autumn of August and I heard from Angela again. This was a tough one because she contacted me feeling the burn of the intense astrological alchemical energies we've all be experiencing at the back end of this summer. It's been brutal. She said, "Dana, yes, I'm hanging in there, but after all this, I thought I'd have a substantial financial shift. Let's talk with Team again." So, we went back to the drawing board and I did another Remote Video Read for her to find out what her Spirit Team had to say. I reveiwed all the tea leaves and found a few new details . . . that it was time, with all her new foundation and inner emotional resilience, to stand up and negotiate for herself.

You see, Angela is a kind and gentle soul. So, going to management to voice and negotiate for herself at the beginning wasn't really in the cards. But after all the work she had done; all the healing; all the clearing; all the inner emotional resiliency she'd built for herself, it seemed she was ready. So I stood on business and talked with her about the particulars of voicing for self value, negotiating, knowing the Karmic Money Soul Contracts that she was needing to dynamically break. And in the end, I got passionate for her -- a little hot under the collar for her in a good way.

And lo . . . I released the video to her and it seems that synchronistically, at the very same time I was speaking these energies of truth . . .

*. . . that's when management came to Angela and said,
"We love you, we love the work you're doing for us.
You are invaluable to us. We are moving you into full time status with full benefits with a promotion and a raise."*

!!!!!!!

And you know what Angela did? She did something cheeky. With all of her clearing work and healing work and uplift and positivity and new-found hutz-pah backing her up . . .

She asked for more. And she got it.

Hot damn.

She returned to me two days later after I posted the video to her and told me all this great news saying, "I asked for more because I know I'm valuable and I deserve it!" She is super excited to be embraced like this in her place of work. She's super excited to work less, be paid more and have the money to pay off her debt and be financially empowered. I'm over-the-moon for her! Way to go Angela! You did it!

This. THIS is the magic that is in Somatic Money. This is how long term work with Somatic Money materializes results. Even in a terrible economy. I've seen this happen repeatedly, especially when people don't take no for an answer and stick with the work.

Can I tell you what your results will be? No. Can I predict when it will happen? No. But I can tell you that the work works.

If you are reading this and it is resonating with you and you want to do a magical Somatic Money journey for yourself -- materializing your own results, click through here to book:

The Elite Magic of Somatic Money
Coaching Package with 10 Components
for \$2,499 \(Regularly \$2,999\)

This link will give you the TEN COMPONENT descriptions for the package and the details of what you'll receive.

This special is running either through 9/14/26 OR until I book 4 people -- whichever comes first.

And if you're reading this thinking, "Dana, I want to participate but I've already done some of the work that you promoted. OR I need other aspects of your work tailored to me. OR I'm on more of budget --

Then please CLICK HERE to request your custom Somatic Money package bid here.
I'll pendulum and talk with Team for your best fit.

Also, if you read the descriptions and think, "I'd rather work with Dana in session for the whole thing." Great! I can do that at double the price. $4,999. In-person work is invaluable. Email me to request the booking.

Last, I can't wait to work together! I'm super excited about this context and I want to connect you with the elements of Somatic Money that magically work for you to create financial breakthroughs in your life!

Dana Stovern
Founder/Coach
The Magic of Somatic Money & Color

www.somaticmoney.com

www.danastovern.com

www.linktr.ee/somaticmoney.com

dana@somaticmoney.com

PO Box 567
Selah WA 98942
USA

Unsubscribe | Change Subscriber Options

